U.S. Names Coordinator Of Cuban Exile Activities

MIAMI, (AP) A diplomat with long experience in Latin America will represent the United States in the Cuban exile colony here.

Henry L. Taylor, until recently political officer at the Embassy in Panama, has assumed the post of coordinator of Cuban affairs here.

Mr. Taylor said his office was not "in any sense an embassy," although it was often called that and some of its functions paralleled those of a diplomatic mission.

The office serves as liaison between the Government and Cuban exile organizations. It also coordinates Cuban affairs activities of all Federal agencies here.
